NEIL MORFITT

This year, 1956-57, may prove to be the last spent in our present school. Because of this fact, we all should want to make it the finest possible. To accomplish this we all must have a thorough knowledge of our school and its functions. A majority of this knowledge can be had by studying and using this Fisherman's Log.

Class Day

TRADITIONS

Each year the students at AHS carry out certain activities set up by former students. We shall try to mention a few of these.

"Hello Day" is one of the first days of school. Its purpose is to help old and new students become acquainted. Hello tags are given out by the Service Club, the sponsors of this day. You are to say "Hello" to everyone you meet all day long.

During the year different clubs sponsor various dances which are open to all students. These are usually informal and school clothes are in order. All outside dates must get guest cards signed by an advisor and the principal.

The Senior Ball is a formal dance given entirely by the seniors and their advisors. The dance is held sometime in December. The theme is always kept secret until the night of the dance.

The juniors give their annual dance in the spring of the year. It is a formal dance put on much the same way as the Senior Ball. There is much rivalry between the two classes as to which can put on the better dance.

The Soph Hop is a cotton and coed dance given by the sophomore class. The sophomores pick a theme as the juniors and seniors do, but their dance is not so elaborate.

Last but not least is the Freshman Cotton and Coed Frolic. The freshmen prove that they have talent by putting on one of the most successful dances of the year.

Each spring many clubs take advantage of nice weather to hold picnics, parties or potluck dinners. These provide a happy climax to the year's activities. These usually take place at the beach.

Homecoming, the football highlight of the year brings much excitement. Each class enters a float in the parade and sponsors one princess except the senior class which sponsors three from which one is chosen queen.

Student Body Elections are held in April after three days of campaigning. In May the new officers are installed by the outgoing ones in a formal ceremony.

Class day is the climax of the year next to commencement, for the senior class. The will and prophecy are read and everyone enjoys the gay assembly.

Let's all remember these traditions and hold in mind that it takes full student body cooperation to make them a success. It's up to you.
